MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

The fiscal year (FY) 2020, which began on October 1, 2019, marked the 14th anniversary of the Whistleblower Office and the Whistleblower Program. I am extremely proud of the dedicated women and men in the Whistleblower Office, Small Business/Self-Employed (SB/SE) Initial Claims Evaluation unit, and other divisions across the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Since 2007, the Whistleblower Program paid awards to whistleblowers totaling more than $1 billion dollars and has led to the successful collection of $6.14 billion from noncompliant taxpayers.

Statistically in FY 2020, the Whistleblower Office made 169 awards to whistleblowers totaling $86,619,032 (before sequestration), which includes 30 awards under Internal Revenue Code (IRC) § 7623(b). Proceeds collected were $472,080,014. Included in the proceeds collected, as a result of IRC § 7623(c), are the non-Title 26 amounts collected for criminal fines, civil forfeitures, and violations of reporting requirements amounting to $110,438,166. The Title 26 amounts collected were $361,641,848. Whistleblower claim numbers assigned in FY 2020 decreased by 20 percent from those submitted in FY 2019, and closures decreased by 33 percent.

During FY 2020, we continued our focus on operationalizing the whistleblower statutes under the Taxpayer First Act of 2019 (TFA 2019). This included adding four analysts to meet the increased workload due to the new provisions. To educate whistleblowers about the new TFA 2019 provisions, we updated Publication 5251, Whistleblower Claim Process and Timeline, and Internal Revenue Manuals 25.2.1 and 25.2.2. On December 3, 2019, we signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) that put in place procedures between the IRS and TTB to process claims for whistleblower awards under Internal Revenue laws that are administered and enforced by TTB. On April 30, 2020, the Whistleblower Office held its first ever Whistleblower Program Forum. Lastly, like other organizations and businesses, the Whistleblower Office worked diligently to maintain Whistleblower Program operations that were impacted by office closures due to the coronavirus crisis.

In closing, the Whistleblower Office continues to encourage all individuals with specific and credible information about tax noncompliance to provide this information to the Government by filing a claim on Form 211, Application for Award for Original Information, with the Whistleblower Office.

BACKGROUND AND PROGRAM EVOLUTION

The Tax Relief and Health Care Act (TRHCA 2006) added IRC § 7623(b), which enacted significant changes in the IRS award program for whistleblowers. The TRHCA 2006 set a new framework for the consideration of whistleblower submissions and established the Whistleblower Office within the IRS to administer that framework. The TRHCA 2006 requires that the Secretary of the Treasury conduct an annual study and report to Congress on the use of IRC § 7623. The annual study and report to Congress includes any legislative or administrative recommendations for IRC § 7623 and its application. This report discusses the IRS Whistleblower Program activities for FY 2020 in satisfaction of the reporting obligations under the TRHCA 2006.

The Whistleblower Office coordinates with other IRS units, analyzes information submitted, and makes award determinations. If a submission does not meet the criteria for IRC § 7623(b) consideration, the Whistleblower Office may consider it for an award pursuant to its discretionary authority under IRC § 7623(a). A whistleblower must meet several conditions to qualify for the IRC § 7623(b) award program. The information must be:

- Signed and submitted under penalties of perjury;
- Related to an action in which the proceeds in dispute exceed $2,000,000; and
- Related to a taxpayer, and for individual taxpayers only, one whose gross income exceeds $200,000 for at least one of the tax years in question.

If the information meets the above conditions and substantially contributes to an administrative or judicial action that results in the collection of proceeds, the IRS will pay an award of at least 15 percent, but not more than 30 percent, of the proceeds. The award percentage decreases for cases based principally on information disclosed in certain public sources or when the whistleblower planned and initiated the actions that led to the tax law violations. Whistleblowers may appeal the Whistleblower Office's award determinations under IRC § 7623(b) to the United States Tax Court (Tax Court).

The IRS pays awards from proceeds, and as such, award payments cannot be made until the taxpayer has exhausted all appeal rights and the taxpayer no longer can file a claim for refund or otherwise seek to recover the proceeds from the government. Therefore, the IRS generally cannot make award payments for several years after the whistleblower has filed a claim.

Also, the Whistleblower Office now notifies the whistleblower when a case for which the whistleblower has provided information has been referred for audit or examination. The Whistleblower Office also notifies the whistleblower when the taxpayer they identified made a tax payment with respect to which the whistleblower's information relates. In addition, the whistleblower can submit a written request for information on the status and stage or action related to such information and for the reason for an award determination on the amount of any award made under IRC § 7623(b), for the correlating whistleblower claim.

FEBRUARY 2018

On February 9, 2018, Section 41108 of the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2018 (BBA 2018) amended IRC § 7623, including by adding a new subsection (c): Proceeds – For purposes of this section, the term 'proceeds' includes – (1) penalties, interest, additions to tax, and additional amounts provided under the Internal Revenue laws, and (2) any proceeds arising from laws for which the Internal Revenue Service is authorized to administer, enforce, or investigate, including – (A) criminal fines and civil forfeiture, and (B) violations of reporting requirements.

JULY 2019

On July 1, 2019, Section 1405(a) of the Taxpayer First Act of 2019 (TFA 2019) amended IRC § 7623 and § 6103, adding several important provisions to help improve whistleblower service, to ensure the continual enforcement of the tax laws in a fair and impartial manner, and to ultimately support the continued success of our nation. The new law created protections for whistleblowers against retaliation.

PROGRAM DEVELOPMENTS

OPERATIONS

In December 2019, the Internal Revenue Service announced a process had been formalized with the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (TTB) that put in place procedures between the IRS and TTB to process claims for whistleblower awards under Internal Revenue laws that are administered and enforced by TTB. The IRS and TTB signed a Memorandum of Understanding on December 3, 2019, making these new procedures possible. TTB is a bureau of the Department of the Treasury and administers provisions of the Internal Revenue laws that impose a federal excise tax on distilled spirits, wine, beer, tobacco products, cigarette papers and tubes, as well as firearms and ammunition. The new procedures enable a partnership with TTB to provide a consistent approach for claims for a whistleblower award administered under Internal Revenue laws.

Like other organizations and businesses, the Whistleblower Program operations were impacted by the ongoing Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) national emergency. Although Whistleblower Office employees are telework ready, and employees shifted quickly to a full-time telework status, the Whistleblower Program experienced some temporary impacts and processing delays as some of the processes are dependent upon other operating divisions (ODs) affected by office closures due to the COVID-19.

Processing of new Form 211 submissions (intake) was delayed two and a half months due to stoppage in mail routing and suspension of normal operations for the Initial Claim Evaluation (ICE) unit. Mail processing resumed sporadically in June 2020. Classification continued to work and cleared through existing inventory; however, due to the intake delays, no new claims were referred to Classification during suspension of intake operations. Claims selected by Classification were not forwarded to the field during suspension of operations.

The notifications required pursuant to TFA 2019 were not impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. The notices of referral for audit or examination letters are triggered by actual movement of the claim to the field and no new claims were referred to the field during this time. Notices of payment of tax continued during this period.

Rejection and denial letters were not issued during the suspension of operations and the Whistleblower Office experienced delays in mailing of determination letters. Award issuance was suspended for one month while SB/SE transitioned some ICE employees to telework ready. Due to limited accounting staff during the suspension of operations, award issuance has taken slightly longer than usual.

Most Whistleblower Program operational processes have been fully restored; however, the Whistleblower Office has suspended indefinitely in-person reviews of any administrative claim files until further notice. Despite the COVID-19 crisis, the Whistleblower Office is continuing to process claims to the greatest extent possible including receiving information, providing notifications required by TFA 2019, issuing determination letters, and paying awards.

“The whistleblower program gives us another tool to fight for the level playing field that our law-abiding industry members expect and deserve,” said, TTB’s Assistant Administrator, Field Operations. “We appreciate this opportunity to partner with our colleagues at the IRS.”

STAFFING

In FY 2020, the Whistleblower Office staff was comprised of 43 full time employees with decades of experience in a broad array of IRS compliance programs.

OUTREACH AND COMMUNICATIONS

The Whistleblower Office maintains a page on the IRS Intranet for IRS personnel and provides articles for internal newsletters and speakers for professional education events. There is also a dedicated page on the IRS website, www.irs.gov<sup>1</sup>, that provides information for the public about the Whistleblower Program. The website includes links to the final regulations, the Form 211, and Publication 5251, The Whistleblower Claim Process and Timeline, which provides information on filing a whistleblower claim for award, the timeline for each step in the claim process, and common reasons for rejection or denial of claims.

On April 30, 2020, the Whistleblower Office held its first ever Whistleblower Program Forum. The Whistleblower Program Forum allowed industry representatives to hear directly from IRS leadership and learn more about the agency's programs and other initiatives. The Whistleblower Office has continued its outreach efforts utilizing IRS social media accounts, as well as publicly subscribed newsletters. The Whistleblower Office continues to utilize Twitter, @IRSNews, @IRStaxpros, and the E-Tax Professionals Newsletter that continues to garner many views. The Whistleblower Office also shares relevant information regularly with stakeholders through its listserv.

Whistleblower Office representatives made presentations to professional groups and attended conferences representing taxpayers and whistleblowers. By attending these functions, the Whistleblower Office obtains an outside perspective on the Whistleblower Program. The Whistleblower Office also provided consultation to other federal agencies and tax administration authorities from other nations, as they evaluated options for establishing their own whistleblower award programs.

ADMINISTRATIVE PRIORITIES AND ISSUES

ADMINISTRATIVE GUIDANCE

TFA 2019 amended IRC § 7623 to provide statutory protections from retaliation to IRS whistleblowers, and amended IRC § 6103 to specify the Service's authority to disclose return information to whistleblowers during investigations and to provide for additional mandatory administrative disclosures to whistleblowers regarding cases for which they have supplied information. To implement the amendments mandating certain administrative disclosures, the Whistleblower Office revised its procedures to send the notices that are required when a case for which the whistleblower has provided information has been referred for audit or examination. The Whistleblower Office now notifies the whistleblower when the taxpayer they identified has made a tax payment with respect to which the whistleblower's information relates. In addition, the whistleblower can submit a written request for information on the status and stage, or action related to such information.

To educate the IRS community about the new TFA 2019 provisions, the Whistleblower Office incorporated key guidance and made significant updates to Publication 5251 and two Internal Revenue Manuals (IRMs). The key guidance went through the standard clearance process with reviews by the affected operating divisions and Chief Counsel. The revised publication was released in October 2019 and the two revised IRMs were published in May 2020. To accommodate the increased workload from the whistleblower TFA 2019 statutes, the Whistleblower Office added four new analysts to the Award Recommendation and Coordination (ARC) unit, a 10 percent increase to the workforce.

ISSUES OF INTEREST

RULES ON ACCESS TO AND DISCLOSURE OF TAXPAYER INFORMATION COULD PROVIDE STRONGER PROTECTION FOR TAXPAYERS

Since FY 2010, the Whistleblower Office's Annual Reports have noted concerns regarding the disclosure of taxpayer information to whistleblowers. IRC § 6103 provides authority for the IRS to disclose taxpayer information to whistleblowers in certain, limited instances.

The new IRC § 6103(k)(13), enacted as part of TFA 2019, explicitly permits disclosures by agents to whistleblowers in order to obtain information during investigations and examinations, as well as disclosures by the Whistleblower Office to apprise whistleblowers of specified milestones during the processing of their claim. Whistleblowers who receive such information are now subject to IRC § 6103's general prohibitions on disclosure, and to criminal sanction if they re-disclose information provided to them in violation of IRC § 6103. In addition to the mandatory and discretionary disclosures now permitted by IRC § 6103(k)(13), the IRS makes, and will continue to make, many disclosures of taxpayer information in administrative and Tax Court proceedings pursuant to IRC § 6103(h)(4). While the IRC does not prohibit whistleblowers from re-disclosing information provided under this authority, the IRC does not expressly permit disclosure of all of the third-party taxpayer information that whistleblowers typically seek from the Whistleblower Office or when litigating appeals of their denied claims in Tax Court.

The government has no authority under the IRC to restrain whistleblowers from re-disclosing a taxpayer's return information following the completion of the administrative and judicial processes. The absence of such protections is especially relevant in cases that involve extensive discovery. In Tax Court, the only limits to the disclosure of returns or return information to the whistleblower are those that a judge may choose to impose in a particular case. For example, the Tax Court may issue a protective order prohibiting the whistleblower from using third-party tax information provided by the IRS in another matter. However, such orders are not statutorily required, and the IRS and the court may not always be cognizant of violations. On the other hand, because IRC § 6103(h)(4)(B) and (C) only permit the IRS to disclose returns or return information to the whistleblower if "directly related" to an issue in the case, counsel for the IRS frequently finds itself in the difficult position of withholding information which, though not disclosable under IRC § 6103's high standard of "directly related," is arguably discoverable under the Tax Court rules' lower "relevancy" standard. Notably, taxpayers are not parties to whistleblower litigation, and as such, taxpayers typically do not know that their confidential returns and return information may be disclosed to whistleblowers, and thus, have no impetus to intervene to ensure the information is protected.

In sum, the IRS has no legal authority to restrain whistleblowers from re-disclosing return information following the completion of the administrative and judicial processes.

STATUTORY CLARIFICATION NEEDED ON SUBMITTING INFORMATION AND CLAIMING AWARDS

IRC § 7623 provides for awards, in some cases mandatory, when the IRS proceeds with an action based on a whistleblower's information. The mandatory award provisions require that information be submitted under penalty of perjury. Separately, IRC § 7623(b)(3) refers to a "claim for award" without providing any further specifics. The Whistleblower Office understands the statute to require a whistleblower to submit the claim for award, like the information, before the IRS proceeds with an action. While information comes into the IRS from a variety of sources, relatively few individuals that provide information to the IRS do so with the intent to claim an award. The claim for award is the only trigger available to the Whistleblower Office for classifying an individual as a whistleblower for purposes of IRC § 7623. The claim for award also allows the Whistleblower Office to contemporaneously track the IRS's use of whistleblower information, and proactively manage the Whistleblower Program. Clarifying the statutory claim filing requirement would strengthen the Program by ensuring that Whistleblower Office resources are devoted to filed claims.

WHISTLEBLOWER PROGRAM RESULTS

Under IRC § 6103, returns and return information are confidential, unless an exception applies. There is no exception in IRC § 6103 that permits the publication of data on identifiable, individual whistleblowers. The IRS may, however, disclose information in aggregate form when the data cannot be associated with, or otherwise identify a taxpayer (or whistleblower). In compliance with these disclosure rules, summary data on awards paid, receipts, closures, and claim status appear in this report.

AWARDS PAID, FISCAL YEARS 2018 TO 2020

Table 1 provides current and historical information on awards paid and collections attributable to whistleblower information, prior to the sequestration reduction described below. The number and amounts of awards paid each year can vary significantly, especially when a small number of high-dollar claims are resolved in a single year. The year in which an award is paid is generally not the year in which collections occurred because the IRS must wait until there is a final determination of proceeds, which means that the taxpayer has exhausted all appeal rights and the taxpayer no longer can file a claim for refund or otherwise seek to recover the proceeds from the government.

Pursuant to the requirements of the Budget Control Act of 2011, as amended by the American Tax Relief Act of 2012, whistleblower award payments under IRC § 7623 are subject to sequestration. The applicable sequestration reduction may change from year-to-year. As applied to payments under IRC § 7623, the required reductions in FY 2020 were 5.9 percent of the amount that would otherwise have been payable. Sequestration reductions totaling $5,110,523 were applied to awards paid during FY 2020.

Since 2007, the Whistleblower Office made awards in excess of $1.01 billion based on the collection of $6.14 billion. In FY 2020, the IRS made 169 awards, totaling $86,619,032 prior to the sequestration reduction; the total award amount represents 18.3% of total amounts collected. In FY 2020, 30 of the award payments made involved IRC § 7623(b) claims.

In some cases, individuals submit multiple claims relating to the same information. In other cases, as the Tax Court has noted, whistleblowers submit numerous claims based entirely on publicly available information—some whistleblowers have submitted hundreds of such claims. To date, the Whistleblower Office has sought to process and respond to all claims filed by whistleblowers. While it will continue to do so, the Whistleblower Office will also continue to look for ways to address duplicative or non-meritorious claims in a summary fashion, both to focus its administrative resources better and to guard against the unnecessary or inadvertent disclosure of confidential taxpayer return information.

TOTAL CLAIMS RELATED TO AWARDS AND AVERAGE DAYS TO PROCESS AWARDS, FISCAL YEARS 2018 TO 2020

Figure 2 provides the average processing days for award claims paid under IRC § 7623(a) and § 7623(b). Generally, the IRS does not pay awards for at least eight years after the whistleblower has filed a claim because a payment cannot be made until there is a final determination of proceeds. This is consistent with information provided to whistleblowers that awards may not be paid until several years after receipt of the claim.

TOTAL STAND-ALONE, MASTER, AND RELATED CLAIM NUMBERS BY MONTH IN FISCAL YEAR 2020

Figure 3 identifies trends and fluctuations as they pertain to Form 211 submissions to the Whistleblower Office and claim numbers issued each month in FY 2020. Figure 3 identifies the submissions as stand-alone, master, and related claim numbers. Stand-alone claim numbers are defined as submissions identifying one taxpayer. Generally, multiple claim numbers are assigned when the claim submission identifies multiple taxpayers. When multiple taxpayers are identified, the claim is then subsequently identified by a master claim number, with related claim numbers. For each master claim number identified below, there are at least two related claim numbers.

FISCAL YEAR 2020 RECEIPTS, BY OPERATING DIVISION

Table 2(A) provides additional information on submissions received in FY 2020. This table identifies the IRS operating divisions to which claim numbers are assigned for review and action. Matters involving taxpayers with assets of more than $10 million are under the jurisdiction of the Large Business and International (LB&I) Division, while matters involving businesses and individuals that do not meet that threshold are generally assigned to Small Business/Self-Employed (SB/SE) Division. Claims involving pension plans, exempt organizations, or governmental entities are referred to Tax Exempt and Government Entities (TE/GE) Division. A claim initially assigned to LB&I, SB/SE, or TE/GE may be referred to Criminal Investigation (CI) Division if the operating division's development of the case reveals a potential criminal violation. The Whistleblower Office also makes direct referrals to CI, such as cases where the allegations relate to illegal source income or other matters where development by a civil operating division would be unnecessary or inappropriate.

The table also identifies the claim types. Claims listed as IRC § 7623(b) include any claim that appears to have the potential to exceed the $2 million threshold under IRC § 7623(b)(5)(B), with all others classified as IRC § 7623(a) claims.

RECEIPTS SELECTED BY OPERATING DIVISIONS FOR REFERRAL TO EXAMINATION IN FISCAL YEAR 2020

Table 2(B) shows the percentage of the claims selected by the operating divisions for referral to field examination as of September 30, 2020.

4 The designation of a claim as a potential IRC § 7623(b) claim should not be treated as final and is contingent on the results of IRS actions that will often not be known for years and ultimately, may or may not reach the $2 million threshold.

5 & 6 The operating division is not specified for some claims because there may be more than one with responsibility for the issues identified, or the claim may be incomplete.

WHISTLEBLOWERS BY GEOGRAPHIC REGION FISCAL YEAR 2020

Figure 4(B) shows the geographic location of all whistleblowers by region in fiscal year 2020. The regions consist of the Western, Central, Eastern, and Foreign geographic locations. The data counts a distinct whistleblower only one time, regardless of whether the whistleblower submitted numerous claims throughout the fiscal year or filed a claim in conjunction with other whistleblowers.

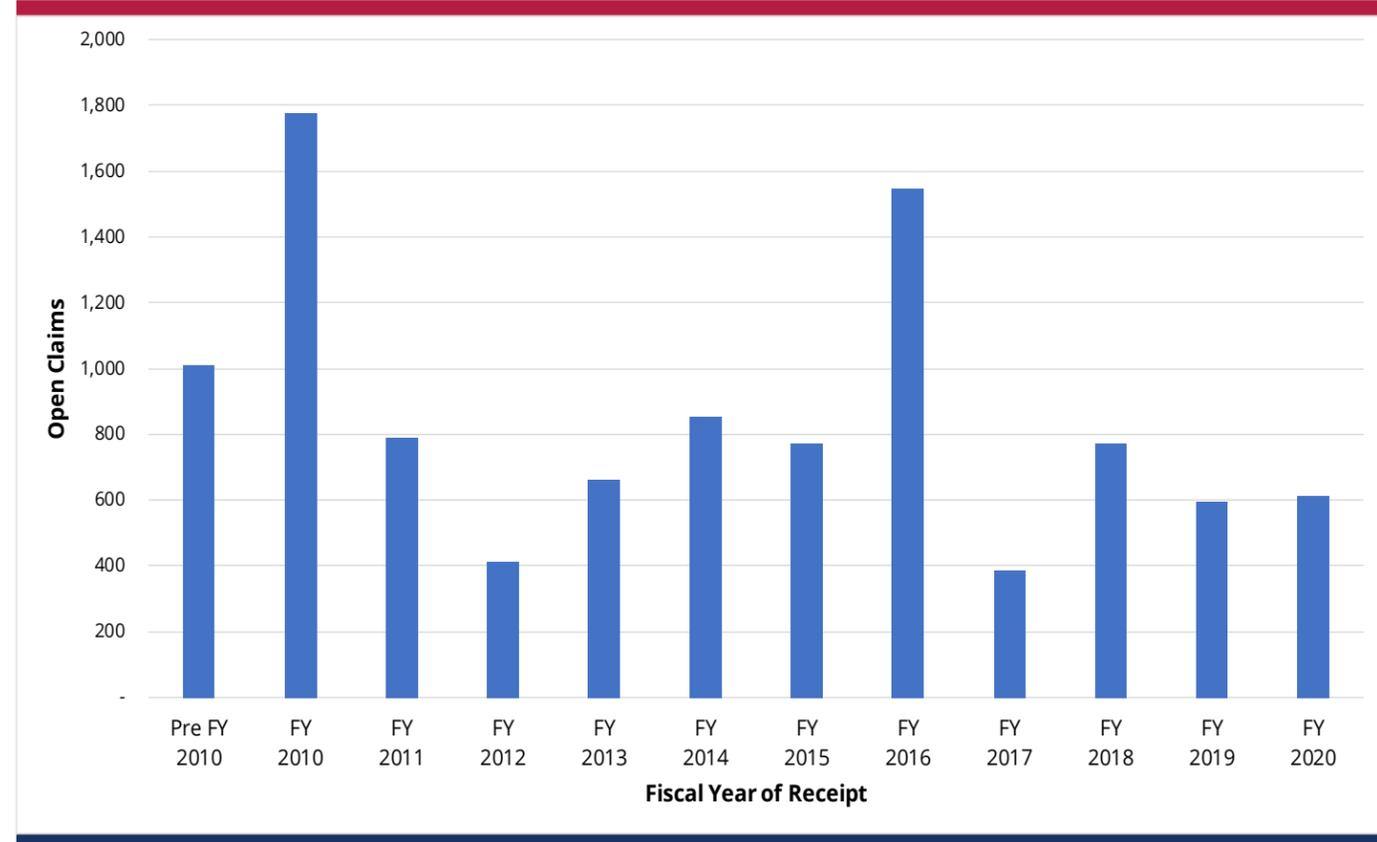

<sup>8</sup> The U.S. Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico are included in the Eastern Region. Guam is included in the Western Region.

OPEN IRC § 7623(B) CLAIMS AS OF FISCAL YEAR 2020

Figure 5 shows the number of IRC § 7623(b) claims remaining open as of September 30, 2020, by year received. The Whistleblower Office uses information provided by the whistleblower to determine whether a claim has the potential to result in proceeds in dispute exceeding the $2,000,000 threshold for IRC § 7623(b). The designation as a potential IRC § 7623(b) claim is not treated as final. The Initial Claims Evaluation (ICE) Unit conducts an initial review of the whistleblower’s Form 211 submission to identify potential IRC § 7623(b) claims. ICE then forwards the potential claims to subject matter experts (SMEs) in the IRS operating divisions. The SME then determines whether the whistleblower’s information will be provided to field offices for further investigation, taking into consideration the quality of the information provided, IRS enforcement priorities and, in some cases, legal limitations on the use of the information submitted.

PROCESSES FOR OPEN IRC § 7623(A) AND § 7623(B) CLAIMS

Table 3 reflects a summary of statuses for open IRC § 7623(a) and § 7623(b) claims. For FY 2020, the statuses were organized into processing phases that provide an overview of where each claim is situated in the claim’s lifecycle as of September 30, 2020.

9 Refer to the “Glossary of Terms” for a complete description of the processing phases outlined under the “Processes” listed Table 3.

10 There are closed claims that are in litigation. Table 3 identifies only open claims.

DESCRIPTION OF PROCESSING PHASES

► Intake/Classification

Intake/Classification process includes claims submitted to the Initial Claim Evaluation (ICE) Unit for review and analysis. The ICE Unit builds the claims, and the claims are then sent to the OD's classification function for further review. The primary function of this process is to determine which claims require additional review from the Whistleblower Office or the ODs. This process includes claims that have no current status, claims that require additional information, incomplete claims, new claims, and claims awaiting classification.

► OD Field/Investigation

OD Field/Investigation process includes claims sent to the various ODs for investigation after classification's review. The current statuses included in this process are claims under OD Field Examination, claims being reviewed by the OD's Subject Matter Experts, and claims under initial review by the Criminal Investigation Division prior to accepting the claim for investigation.

► OD Field/Suspense

Claims submitted often include multiple taxpayers, potential related taxpayers, and claims which might fall under the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act (TEFRA). The OD Field/Suspense process includes claims that are awaiting the closure of an associated claim, to allow all claims to be closed out simultaneously. This process includes the status for claims in which the case is suspended because the OD is evaluating a bulk claim involving a large number of taxpayers, or the claim still has related claims in process, or the claims are awaiting the resolution of a TEFRA key case.

► Appeals

This process involves the status on claims in which the taxpayer has sought review by the IRS appeals function or the courts.

► Preliminary Award Evaluation

Preliminary Award Evaluation process involves claims with current statuses including administrative proceedings for either rejections or denials, or for Preliminary Award Recommendation Letters (PARL).

► Interim Award Assessment

This process includes the review of all claims that have been returned from the ODs that require additional review. The current statuses in this process include approvals for award percentages, award evaluations, final award approval, final award processing, Form 11369 award recommendation and coordination review, reviewing the results of the ODs to determine whether sufficient information exists to make an award decision, managerial PARL approval, and the review of pending rejection and denial letters.

► Collection/Suspense

Collection/Suspense process involves the monitoring of tax accounts associated with claims for payment of the deficiencies.

► Award/Suspense

This process includes cases that have been suspended, and cases in which the payment has been received but is awaiting final determination of proceeds.

► Final Review

Final Review process includes Award Recommendation Memoranda and letters for rejections and denials, which have been approved, or are awaiting approval from management.

► Litigation

The litigation process includes the claims where the whistleblower has sought litigation regarding an award determination made on the whistleblower's claim.

CLOSURE REASONS FOR FISCAL YEAR 2020

In FY 2020, the Whistleblower Office closed 11,135 claims, a 33.1 percent decrease from FY 2019 closures. The three most common factors for closures were:

- Rejected claims with a non-specific, non-credible, or speculative allegation.
- Claims denied due to the examination resulting in a "no change," or the issues utilizing the information provided by the whistleblower resulted in a "no change."
- Claim was surveyed by the OD. The OD decided not to pursue due to various reasons including but not limited to; the quality of the claim information, enforcement priorities, statute of limitations is too short for enforcement action, and lack of collectability.

Additional items of interest regarding the various reasons for closure are listed below:

- There may be multiple closure reasons associated with a claim.
- When a submission identifies multiple taxpayers, different closure reasons could apply to different taxpayers, based on the results of IRS actions regarding each taxpayer. For example, there may be an award paid with respect to one taxpayer and a denial due to a "no change" result with respect to another taxpayer.
- The closure reasons distinguish between examinations that find no additional taxpayer liability and those in which a liability was found on issues other than those identified by the whistleblower. Awards are paid only when the IRS takes action based on the information provided by the whistleblower. When the information provided by the whistleblower has no relevance to the adjustments, the claim is denied, and the closure reason applied is "Claim Denied - Whistleblower Issue Was 'No Change'."

Table 4 provides a summary of the closure reasons for closures that occurred during FY 2020. The data was grouped into similar categories and is displayed as a percentage of the total closures.
